WOODROW WILSON

The eagle has passed on! * * * * into the blue
And all the chattering of the sparrows dies.
They could not bear to see the eagle rise
Beyond the reaches that their small wings knew,
Above the housetops they could compass too—
But though they strove to blind the eagle's eyes
With fluttering wings * * * * to stay him with their cries,
He rose and passed—above, beyond their view.

An eagle always is a lonely one—
The far heights call to him and he must go;
But little birds cannot look on the sun,
And what an eagle knows they cannot know * * * *
When he is gone the small ones know, at last,
That there, above their head, an eagle passed!

Our name has been changed, we are no longer Mary Baldwin Seminary Alumnæ Association, but we are the Association of Alumnæ and Former Students of Mary Baldwin Seminary and College. The proposed change in name published in the 1923 Bulletin did not include the College. This title, adopted after serious consideration, embraces our whole field; though we have but one full College graduate, and she received her degree this Commencement, we have many members who have done College work and still many who have done preparatory work. But regardless of our position in the Association now is the time to work.

Always our Alma Mater has given herself to us lavishly and as students how sparingly we partook of her bounty too many of us can recall with regret. But now is our opportunity to give of our service and means. Mary Baldwin girls have always been generous, and Mary Baldwin girls are holding places of prominence throughout the land. The $500,000.00 set as an endowment goal cannot be reached if we are to work against a wall of indifference, too many have neglected to answer letters of importance; a real and sincere co-operation is necessary for our growth and success. The date for raising this sum has not been set but we take this opportunity to ask all old Mary Baldwin girls to contribute their gifts through this Association.

Next year the classes of 1923 and 1924 will hold their reunion and we extend a cordial invitation to them, as also to all members of the entire Association. Come back and see what your Alma Mater has accomplished.

ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING

The annual business meeting, held Friday, May 23, 1924, was opened with a prayer by Dr. A. M. Fraser, President of the Mary Baldwin College.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted.

Mrs. Annie Hotchkiss-Howison occupied the chair while the President gave her report, which follows:

MEMBERS OF THE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION:

In reviewing my term I cannot boast of glorious achievement, or present success, as your President. Nevertheless, the year has been a busy one. I trust the efforts are merely lying dormant and that in the near future results even beyond our present expectation will be realized.

Carrying out the sense of the 1923 business meeting, I wrote the Atlanta Alumnae Association declining, at the present time, the endowment campaign challenge, but expressing this Association's appreciation of its great zeal for and interest in this institution.

Upon the recommendation of the acting President, Mrs. Howison, efforts were made to establish several new chapters. At this time we have no new chapters to report, but we know a foundation is laid.

In February the Executive Committee through the President sent a letter of greeting, containing a brief synopsis of the college activities, to all organized chapters and to those chapters, whose reports were missing for last year. This has brought results.

I am more than ever convinced of the importance of the local chapter, which draws its impressions direct from our Alma Mater, other chapters will strive to keep pace with it.

It is with pride that we can say that one year of Mary Baldwin College is past and we rejoice that it is fully launched on its career of greater usefulness, but it means greater responsibility for us. We must have a full or part time Field Secretary, so that we may put our work fully before the Alumnae at large. The initial financing of such a Secretary will be the most difficult part, but it has generally been found that they shortly pay for themselves. This may mean a little more work for all of us, but we can search history and will find it is always the energetic and already busy people who accomplish things.

It is the hope of your President that our usefulness to the "Mary Baldwin System" may be as great and far reaching as the influence of our years spent here have been upon our lives and the lives of all the others who have spent time within these walls.

Very respectfully,

REBA A. ARNOLD,

President.

President's report was accepted.

The Treasurer's report was read and accepted.

FANNIE B. STRAUSS,
Treasurer, M. B. S. A. A.

The Corresponding Secretary reported eight letters written and some work done in correcting Class Lists.

Dr. Fraser gave the following report which was accepted by a rising vote of thanks.

May 23, 1924.

Mrs. D. H. Hill Arnold,
President of the Alumnae Association,
Mary Baldwin College,
Staunton, Va.

My dear Mrs. Arnold:

In accordance with instructions of the Board of Trustees, I am addressing this communication through you to the Alumnae Association.

The Board wishes me to give official information to the Association of the purpose of the Synod of Virginia to raise $500,000 for the College and the purpose of the Chamber of Commerce of Staunton and Augusta County to raise $100,000. This information is given with the hope that the Association may see its way clear to add to this fund a fund of its own to be contributed by the Alumnae. Should the Association see its way clear to act upon this suggestion, it would be altogether within the province of the Association itself to determine the amount of its fund and the time and method of raising it.

Whilst the Synod of Virginia has not fixed a time for making its canvass, nor organized machinery for it, it is highly probable that the Synod will take such action at its next meeting in September. If it should do so, the present meeting of your Association would be the last one before the Synod's activities would begin. It is possible that the local Chamber of Commerce may decide to make a canvass simultaneous with that of the Synod, thus giving both agencies the benefit of the same publicity and of whatever enthusiasm the cause may excite. If your Association should decide to raise its own fund, it might be well to consider the advisability of acting at the same time and in cooperation with the Synod, and possibly with the Chamber of Commerce.

That there may be no confusion, and no overlapping of solicitations, I would suggest the appointment of a committee from your Association to confer with similar committees from the Synod and the Chamber and the Board of Trustees. Such a committee from your Body might either be instructed to report back to a special meeting of the Association, or else be granted plenary powers to determine officially all questions that may arise and to conclude all business with the full authority of the Association.

In view of the widely scattered state of your constituency and the need for unity of organization and action, may I suggest the advisability of employing a field secretary to visit the Alumnae in their centers, or to correspond with them where there are no centers, with a view to thorough organization, information and the awakening of enthusiasm. The real problem in such a course would be the providing a salary for the Secretary and the expenses of her correspondence, travel, etc. It would only be the initial expense, however, that would cause the problem. After the raising of money begins, the salary and all expenses would be provided out of the proceeds of the canvass.

I need not say that this requires the services of your wisest, most enthusiastic and tactful member, or members. Nor need I say that the Alumnae of Mary Baldwin are rich in the qualifications that have just been intimated.

Institutions of learning are depending more than they formerly did upon the loyalty and practical support of their alumni, rather than upon the spasmodic generosity of wealthy philanthropists. In all efforts to raise money for these institutions, the alumni have been one of the largest factors. In more than four score years of its most gracious service, Mary Baldwin has sown throughout the land a large harvest of womanhood. There is at this time an opportunity to give expression to the Mary Baldwin sentiment and ideals in permanent and magnificent form and in a field hitherto unoccupied. Would that a voice might go forth from this meeting that would set every brain cell in motion and cause every nerve to tingle with enthusiasm, with the vision of a splendid and beautiful future!

By direction of the Board of Trustees,
A. M. FRASER,
President.

It was moved and seconded that the foregoing report be given to the Executive Committee to be used as a basis in formation of any necessary working plans in connection with the Endowment Fund.

Miss Higgins' report followed; this was accepted with thanks:

To the Alumnae of the Mary Baldwin: Madam President, I have the honor to submit the following report:

The year of 1923-'24 is memorable in the Mary Baldwin Annals for a radical departure in administrative policy and for general constructive work in organization. The College has been the new interest, the challenge, the adventure, and we have endeavored to meet this challenge gallantly, and to solve day by day the many perplexing problems, always trying to combine realities with the highest Christian standards.

The organization of two groups of students differing in preparation and aim taxed our ingenuity to the utmost, but if you will follow me through your beautiful stately buildings, I will give you just a few details to show you that while the Mary Baldwin Seminary has gone on, the Mary Baldwin College in organization and curriculum is a fact and not a fancy. In the dormitories on the upper terrace you will find between fifty-five and sixty regularly matriculated college girls running a form of co-operative government administered by hall presidents and monitors. The hall president makes out her card every week from her daily records and files that card every Saturday morning in her own filing case in my office. The hall organization is not perfect, but it is moving towards perfection.

In close relation to the dormitory life comes the dining room. The central row of tables in the dining room is used for college students only, the presidents of the classes presiding at the tables as far as possible. During my fifteen years at the Mary Baldwin I have known no year in which the dining room department has been more orderly and dignified.

To meet the conditions arising from having college and preparatory classes in one academic building, we used as far as expedient the second floor of this building for college classes, posting the class schedules and all matters pertaining to college life on a bulletin board on that floor. All college students study in their own rooms or in the library.

The policy of the library has been liberality, keeping books within easy reach, striving to give the college students not merely the books they need for immediate use but allowing them to dispose of their own time, passing quietly in and out of the library as the amount of reference work demands. I know of no place in the school where the scholarly attitude is shown more clearly than in the intelligent use of the library and the quiet studious atmosphere which prevails there. By the way, the number of books has passed the seven thousand mark, and under the skillful management of Miss Abbie M. McFarland, you will find every book catalogued and ready to greet you should you desire to have one.

An examination of the college catalogue will reveal to you that the courses of study in English, History, Bible, etc., etc., have been broadened and enriched. New courses in Philosophy, Education and Political Economy have been added. Valuable equipment was added to the physical laboratory this year, and I am hoping to install some equipment for experimental psychology next year. In speaking of the college catalogue, I neglected to call your attention to the fact that we now issue two catalogues, one for the Mary Baldwin Seminary and one for the Mary Baldwin College. I am preserving the first copy of the Mary Baldwin College catalogue for the session of 1923-'24, hoping that when the cornerstone is laid for your new administrative building on the college site this catalogue may find a resting place therein. I am living with intense interest in the present and always building for the future. I state very distinctly in the catalogue that social reorganization cannot be effected so long as two schools are provided for in the same plant, but the college girls this winter have enjoyed many liberties not previously extended to them, and so far as I know they have kept the faith.

The Young Woman's Christian Association continues to be a powerful influence in the school, and the religious feeling is strong and abiding.

We have six teachers doing exclusively college work in English, History, Psychology and Ethics, History of Art, Latin, French, Spanish, and Mathematics. A major part of the time of the Bible and the Science teachers is given to college work, making eight college teachers in all. These teachers represent such universities as Cornell, Columbia, Johns Hopkins, Wellesley, Goucher, and the Biblical Seminary.

May I take this opportunity to tell you, the honored Alumnae of the Mary Baldwin, that the splendid group of scholarly efficient officers and teachers now laboring at the Mary Baldwin have enabled us to meet this new challenge with a reasonable amount of success. The magnificent team work, the grim determination to overcome difficulties, the loyalty to and love for the Mary Baldwin, have been the dominating factors in this our first year. If time would permit, I would like to tell you of the valuable contributions made to the success of the college life by all of the officers of the school, by the preparatory teachers, by the special teachers, for our interests are so closely interwoven that it is impossible in fact to separate them. But as I was asked to speak of the college work, I have emphasized that division particularly. May I ask you that some day you will give me the opportunity of telling you of the vigorous work carried on in all the departments?

The four regular college classes were organized early in the fall. After frequent consultations and much persuasion some of the students who had enrolled for graduation in the Junior College Course were induced to transfer to the New College Course. The class formations were as follows: Freshmen, forty-two; Sophomores, fifteen; Juniors, three; Seniors, one. The senior, Miss Elsie Jones, of New Bern, North Carolina, who after three years' work at the Seminary, was graduated from the Junior College Course last May. The remaining college students, fifty-seven in number, are classified as college specials. Many of these students are taking Music, Art, Expression, Domestic Science, or Physical Education in addition to some college subjects. The total number of college students enrolled is one hundred and nineteen; the day students are included in this number. All college classes run on the hour basis and are under a different schedule of bells from that of the preparatory department. The college students use the Library with increased ease and ability.

As we have one candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts this year, we decided to hold separate graduating exercises. This degree will be conferred by our honored President, Dr. A. M. Fraser, Monday morning at eleven o'clock, and all the college students as well as the college faculty will be in academic costume. An academic procession will be formed on one of the terraces.

We have the students, we have the college organization and broadening curriculum, we have the strong faculty, and we have your beautiful plant which was built for one school and not for two. My message is cheerful and hopeful, but I want you who have acquired or inherited the Mary Baldwin spirit to realize that I am fully alive to the limitations under which we are working, but I also want you to know that my ambition for the Mary Baldwin knows no boundary lines. "Come over and help us" so that Mary Baldwin will continue to prove that "a city set upon a hill cannot be hid."

May I give you some additional information concerning the Mary Baldwin Seminary?

(Taken from a report prepared Jan. 22, 1924)

ENROLLMENT.

The students in the Mary Baldwin Seminary for the first half session are divided into the following groups: Graded Department, 36; College-preparatory Department, First-year, 21; Second-year, 24; Third-year, 26; Fourth-year, 43; the old Seminary or Junior College Department—Juniors, 17; Seniors, 14; Specials, 45. The Juniors and Seniors have their usual class organizations which are kept separate from the college classes. These classes have decreased in membership on account of the transfer of some students to the new College course. I shall not give the academic distribution in all subjects, but I wish to call your attention to the large number, one hundred and seven, studying preparatory Latin. This group was so large that it became necessary to employ a second assistant for this department. There has been no marked falling off in the special departments.

PHYSICAL AND MENTAL TESTS.

Individual mental tests have been given to the new boarding students, and we are planning to give group tests to the whole school immediately after examinations. Membership in the Athletic Association is open to all students. The Physical Director attempted to sub-divide those enrolled in athletics into preparatory and college groups, but that division in some cases was impossible on account of conflicting schedules. Indoor gymnastics and field sports have been emphasized. The size of the gymnasium continues to be a handicap. The court, upper terraces, and porches are used for setting-up exercises.

COLLEGE ENTRANCE.

We maintain the same standard for entrance to our College Department that we do for those who seek admission to other institutions. Last fall we sent students to the following colleges and universities: Goucher, Wellesley, Mt. Holyoke, Abilene Christian College, Agnes Scott, Sweet Briar, Randolph-Macon, University of Texas, and the University of Oklahoma. Satisfactory reports as to the progress of these students have been received from those colleges furnishing reports to Preparatory schools. This year we expect to send representatives from our preparatory department to Vassar, Smith, Goucher, and Columbia.

JUNIOR COLLEGE.

Students from the Junior College course have received advanced standing in such institutions as Abilene Christian College, Antioch College, Randolph-Macon, Goucher, University of Chicago. It is interesting to note that of our three literary graduates of last year, one is teaching in the Covington High School; one is working for her A. B. degree at the University of Chicago, where she received two full years' credit for the work done at the Mary Baldwin; and the remaining one expects to graduate from the Mary Baldwin College in May.

FACULTY.

Some members of the academic faculty hold degrees from the following universities and colleges: University of Chicago, Cornell, Goucher, Wellesley, Brenau. Other members who are graduates from the Mary Baldwin have done additional work at the University of Chicago, University of Virginia, and Columbia University. One teacher has a record for advanced work at the University of the South. Two normal graduates, one from Harrisonburg, and one from Farmville, have charge of the Graded Department. The Bible teacher has studied at the Biblical Training School of New York City. The Physical Director is a graduate of the Sargent's School of Gymnastics of Cambridge, Mass. The Expression teacher is a graduate of the Curry School of Expression, Boston. The Domestic Science teacher is a normal graduate of the Boston Cooking School, Boston, and she has done additional work at Teachers' College, Columbia University. The Art teacher is a graduate of the Maryland Institute of Art and Design, and she has also studied extensively in other schools. The Piano and Voice teachers have been trained under native and foreign masters.

The work has been extremely varied this year, and nearly every day has brought complications, some of which required immediate and quick decision, and others involved long hours of careful deliberation. In addition to the routine work and to supervising the complicated organization, I am always feeling the temper, or spirit, of the students and observing the attitude of the college and preparatory groups toward each other. I have been conscious at times of some feeling of restlessness on the part of preparatory students which seemed to be caused by the increased attention paid to college students, and while I have earnestly endeavored to create a college atmosphere, I have realized the necessity of conserving the long recognized merit and standard of the Mary Baldwin Seminary.

I wish to express my appreciation to you, the Alumnæ of Mary Baldwin Seminary, old friends and new, for your consideration and continued courtesy.

MARIANNA P. HIGGINS,
Principal of Mary Baldwin Seminary and Dean of Mary Baldwin College.

The visiting Alumnæ were asked to stand and each one to give her name.

CHAPTER REPORTS

Following is the report of the Staunton Chapter, which was accepted as a whole, the Recommendations voted on separately:

The Staunton and Augusta County Chapter of the Mary Baldwin Alumnæ Association has held several meetings during May. At a very enthusiastic meeting, held at the residence of Mrs. Emily Pancake-Smith on Wednesday, May 21st, there were 75 "old girls" present. We had the pleasure of having as our guests on this occasion Miss Higgins, the Principal, and Dr. Fraser, the President of the Mary Baldwin College. Also an interesting program rendered by several of the Mary Baldwin students.

OFFICERS

Chairman ..... Mrs. Emily Pancake-Smith
 Vice-Chairman ..... Mrs. Annabel Timberlake-Hogshead
 Secretary ..... Mrs. Marie Hammond-Wonson
 Corresponding Secretary ..... Mrs. Lottie Kable-Morris
 Treasurer ..... Miss Harriet Sproul

This Chapter submits the following recommendations to the Mary Baldwin Alumnae Association for your consideration:

I. That the Alumnae at large take as its goal the sum of $500,000 to be raised for the College Endowment Fund, the sum to be raised in ten years.

(This recommendation was fully discussed and accepted; the same was turned over to the Executive Committee for the development of further plans.)

II. That the Association employ the services of a Field Secretary to organize chapters and arouse enthusiasm.

(This recommendation was adopted and referred to a committee consisting of the Executive Committee of the Association and the officers of the Staunton Chapter; this committee to decide upon the financing and securing a Field Secretary. During the open discussion of the above recommendation it was moved and seconded that $250.00, money invested as the basis of an Endowment Fund now in the hands of the Association Treasurer be used in financing a Field Secretary and the Board of Trustees of the Mary Baldwin College be approached for an additional $500.00. If necessary another $250.00 to be taken from current expenses of Association, all this in the form of a loan.)

III. That we endorse the recommendation of the Washington Chapter to conduct a sale of fancy articles during the school session at the College.

(The above is enlarged upon elsewhere in the BULLETIN.)

IV. That inasmuch as the Mary Baldwin College is now owned and controlled by the Synod of Virginia

We, the members of the Staunton and Augusta County Chapter of the Alumnae Association, do hereby make the following request.

That the Mary Baldwin College Alumnae Association at its next annual meeting take steps toward the appointment of a Mary Baldwin representative in each Church of the Synod of Virginia, the duty of this representative being to foster an interest in the Seminary and College, not only in her church but in her community and shall endeavor to hold a meeting on Baldwin Day, October fourth.

(No action was taken upon this recommendation except that it should be incorporated with resolutions.)

V. The following was adopted as a recommendation to be presented to the Board of Trustees.

At a very pleasant meeting of the Staunton and Augusta County Chapter of the Mary Baldwin Alumnae Association, many things of interest in regard to our Alma Mater were informally discussed, and the occasion seemed a suitable one to express our feelings of loyalty and of love for the school so dear to our hearts.

In this connection the hope was expressed and shared by all present, that if, at any future time, changes in the buildings seemed necessary, the old chapel should be left intact, or restored as far as possible to its original form when used as a church.

In this building the fore-fathers of many of us worshiped, here it was that Dr. Joseph R. Wilson preached the Gospel and here most probably was baptized the baby Thomas Woodrow Wilson, a child of the Covenant, born and reared in Presbyterianism, destined to become noted Educator, Statesman, Patriot, Ruler of a mighty nation, a man of Vision and high ideals, one who gladly sacrificed life itself in a gallant fight to promote international peace and goodwill—is not his name, the most out-standing one of our time, a valuable asset to the old Seminary?

Within these walls memories of our beloved Miss Baldwin crowd thick and fast, memories too, of teachers loved and revered, and so we, as a chapter, ask the authorities to preserve the old building in its pristine simplicity of beauty and design.

At a meeting of the Staunton Chapter it had been suggested that a campaign slogan be adopted and several were offered at this meeting. After due consideration the following was adopted:

Stone on stone
Has Mary Baldwin's gown,
A college rare,
Its every stone,
A daughter fair.

The adoption of an appropriate slogan for the Alumnae Association was also discussed with the result that it was moved and seconded that a committee, appointed by the President, ask, through the BULLETIN, for slogans from the Alumnae at large. (Miss Augusta Bumgardner, Staunton, Va., was appointed chairman of this committee and she asks that all suggestions be sent to her by January 1, 1925.)

WASHINGTON CHAPTER.

The Washington Chapter had only one meeting this year, which was held on May 7, 1924, at the home of Mrs. Jas. Trimble and her sister, Miss Flora Firor. Eleven members were present, and several visitors added to the pleasure of the occasion. Six new members were added to the chapter. Miss Moore gave an interesting account of the last Alumnae meeting in Staunton. She spoke particularly of the work of our missionary student, Miss Bull, and also commended Miss Higgins' work as Principal. A program relative to the transition of the M. B. S. into a Class A College for Women was of great interest to the old Baldwin girls.

Mrs. Trimble offered a resolution of sympathy on account of the death of our loyal and beloved member, Mrs. Daniel.

New officers for the year are Miss Margaret Daniel, Chairman; Mrs. James Trimble, Vice-Chairman and Miss Ellen L. Mehurin, Secretary and Treasurer. The meeting then adjourned to meet in the fall with Mrs. Katharine Shuey Kappler.

Respectfully submitted,
ELLEN L. MEHURIN,
Secretary and Treasurer.

The Washington Chapter also submitted the following plan as a method for raising money for the College Endowment Fund:

THE PLAN

Every member of each Chapter to contribute annually one or more articles that could be sold during the year, at a stated time and place, preferably in the girls' parlor at the Mary Baldwin College.

These sales to be conducted by the Staunton Chapter and all money resulting therefrom to be paid to the Mary Baldwin College endowment fund.

This matter to be brought before the coming meeting of the Alumnæ for consideration and action, and if approved, all Chapters to be notified and a sale attempted near Christmas.

All articles for these sales to be plainly marked as to price and to be sent to some one appointed by the Staunton Chapter to receive them in Staunton.

ARGUMENTS FOR THE PLAN

Where there are so many young girls, there will be much giving of presents at school and gifts wanted to be sent home for birthdays, anniversaries, etc. The money so expended might as well come into the College fund.

This plan of giving by the personnel of the Chapters would fall very lightly on each one.

As the articles for sale are all to be donated they could be sold at honest and moderate prices.

This plan has been endorsed by the Washington Chapter, if approved by Miss Higgins and the Alumnæ Association.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY ELLA MOORE,
Chairman Special Committee,
Washington Chapter, M. B. S. A. A.

KNOXVILLE CHAPTER.

At a meeting of the Knoxville Chapter held in April, Mrs. Ina Ast Paine was elected chairman. The former chairman, Mrs. Mary Andes Dooley, died February 26, 1924. Mrs. Dooley had been at the head of this chapter since its organization in 1912. Mrs. Blanche Dempster Moffett resigned as Secretary-Treasurer. The object of the Chapter this year will be to arouse more interest and increase the number of members.

Sincerely,

INA AST PAINE,
Chairman.

NEW YORK CHAPTER.

A business meeting of the New York Chapter of the Mary Baldwin Seminary Alumnae Association was held at the home of the President, Mrs. Wm. R. Craig, 555 Park Avenue, on February 27, 1924 at 3:00 o'clock.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. A letter from Mrs. Reba Andrews Arnold, President of the Association was read by Mrs. Craig.

Everyone present was keenly interested in the description of the new Mary Baldwin.

Discussion was held regarding the annual contribution to the Scholarship Fund.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY C. H. DOYLE,
Secretary-Treasurer.

The Atlanta Chapter did not send in a formal report but a contribution of $100.00, $50.00 for 1923-24 and $50.00 for 1924-'25, was sent to the Missionary Scholarship Fund.

The report of the Alumnæ Scholarship Committee was in the form of a letter of appreciation from Pauline Harris, the Scholarship pupil. Miss Harris has been awarded the scholarship for the session 1924-'25, when she will receive her A. B. degree from the Mary Baldwin College.

REPORT OF THE MISSIONARY SCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE

In presenting to the Mary Baldwin Seminary and College Alumnae Association a fourth annual report we have nothing but the best to say as to the finances, the student holding the scholarship and the hearty and generous response of members of the Association and former students at large of the Mary Baldwin Seminary.

Virginia Bull has "made good" this past session, receiving from and giving to the College much that is worth-while; we find her at the close of the school year vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. next session; and president of the Junior Class; she also was the recipient of the mathematics medal at Commencement.

Mr. and Mrs. Bull, missionaries at Kunsan, Korea, reached the United States the latter part of May and they are now a re-united family, after a separation of seven years, living at "Mission Court," Richmond, Va., during their year of furlough.

At a Committee meeting in March Virginia was re-appointed to the scholarship for 1924-'25 and at finals next May she will receive the Junior College diploma, the last session when this diploma will be given; in the future the scholarship student will enter for the full College term of four years, working to the end of a B. A. degree.

The treasurer's report gives details as to receipts, disbursements and investments of surplus funds on hand each year; you will note we now have $1,300.00 interest-bearing bonds, the nucleus of an endowment fund of this scholarship. The committee heartily thanks every Chapter, alumnae member and former student who contributed to this fund the past year and asks for your continued interest and support in the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

THE MISSIONARY SCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE,

Mrs. Anne Hotchkiss-Howison, Chairman, Staunton, Va.

Mrs. Kate Nelson Stout, Treasurer, Staunton, Va.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bell-Ricketts, Greenville, S. C.

Miss Margaret McChesney, Staunton, Va.

Miss Nannie McFarland, M. B. S., Staunton, Va.

The foregoing report was accepted. It was further stated that the $25.00 given annually toward the Missionary Scholarship by the Association should be withheld until needed.

DIDO'S BANQUET

Virgil's Aeneid—Book I, Lines 697-727

Entering the spacious hall he saw the queen recline
 Upon her golden couch; almost does she outshine
 Her splendid pictured tapestries; and came anon
 Father Aeneas who straightway reclined upon
 The outspread purple; came the Trojan heroes all.
 Now water for their hands is brought into the hall,
 And baskets heaped with bread, and napkins woven fine.
 Within, two score and ten young maidens, in a line,
 Prepare and serve the feast and keep the hearth aflame;
 Then five score maidens bearing food and goblets came
 And just as many youths, lading the groaning board.
 Likewise the Tyrians gathering with one accord
 The festal-portals throng, and each reclines as bid
 On his embroidered couch, and each in praise outdid
 His friend—praising the Trojan's gifts and little son
 Iulus of dissembled words, radiant as one
 Of the immortal gods; praising the veil all sewn
 With gold acanthus, and the robe. Her doom unknown,
 Entranced by child and gifts, unhappy Dido fills
 Her bosom with sweet gazing, seeing not the ills
 Decreed for her by fate. The false Iulus leaves
 His father, whom with fond caresses he deceives,
 And seeks the queen. But Dido unaware of plots
 Fondles and loves the child—wretched, perceiving not
 How great a god is nestling in her arms. He tries
 As Venus bade, her dead affections to surprise
 And drive Sychaeus' image from her loyal heart.
 And now there comes the first lull since the banquet's start;
 The tables are removed and slaves the goblets place
 Crown'd with garlands fair. Ever the lofty space
 Within the halls reechoes with jovial cry
 Of banqueters; the blazing lamps suspended high
 From the gold-fretted ceiling flaming brightly vie
 With th' encircling night.

MILDRED ANN GILL.

NOTICE

In the preceding account of the business meeting you have read about the Plan offered by the Washington Chapter and endorsed by the Association whereby money may be raised for the College Endowment Fund from the sale of handmade articles at the College during the school session. Read the Plan again and let each alumna "do her bit" by sending some handmade article to Mrs. Charles Hunter, 521 E. Main St., Staunton, Va., by November 1, 1924.

Are You Interested in Slogans?

Select one which you consider appropriate for the Alumnae Association and send it to Miss Augusta Bumgardner, Staunton, Va., by January 1, 1925. The slogan chosen by the committee will be published in the 1925 BULLETIN.

THE FIRST COMMENCEMENT OF MARY BALDWIN COLLEGE

Mary Baldwin College held its first commencement May 26, 1924.

Miss Elsie Walker Jones, a Junior College graduate of 1923, by dint of hard work covered in one year the whole ground between the Junior College course and the full college course. It is well known that while Mary Baldwin Seminary has been a Junior College for some years, it has been giving almost the equivalent of three years college work. The Junior College graduates therefore lacked only a little more than a year's work to prepare them for graduation. Miss Jones undertook this feat and was successful in it.

When it became evident that she would be ready for graduation, it was decided to have a college commencement distinct from the seminary commencement, the former being held on Monday the 26th and the latter on Tuesday the 27th. Preparations for this commencement were made on short notice, but the result was entirely satisfactory. The commencement sermon for the two institutions was preached in the First Presbyterian Church by the Rev. B. F. Wilson, D. D., of Harrisonburg, Va., on May 25th. The college students attended the service in cap and gown. At the college commencement on Monday, there was an academic procession. The President and commencement speaker, the Dean and the faculty and the college students, all in cap and gown, together with the Trustees, formed the procession. The line was formed on the upper terrace in front of the main building, proceeded down the central walk to the lower terrace and from thence to the chapel and the platform. After the opening prayer by the President, the candidate for graduation was presented by the Dean to the President, who delivered the diploma, conferring the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The Dean attached the Bachelor's hood to the gown of the new graduate, who readjusted the tassel on her cap to correspond to her degree. Each of the three lower classes then changed their tassels to indicate their promotion to a higher class. A powerful address was made by the invited speaker, the Rev. Dr. Wilson, an enthusiastic believer in the future of the college. This was followed by a few remarks from the President, and the exercises were closed by the singing of two verses of the hymn "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," and the Benediction, pronounced by the Rev. W. E. Davis.

The audience filled the chapel and followed the exercises with the most intense interest.

The whole occasion was impressive and pleasing and all the friends of the college present were enthusiastic over the success of the first commencement.
